Program Goals

This program has been designed to provide participants with specific training needed to develop and maintain safe and effective infection prevention practices in the Long Term Care setting.

Program Objectives

At the completion of the program, the participants will be able to:

- Discuss how Candida auris and other emerging pathogens are impacting patient safety in New York State Long Term Care Facilities.
- Discuss the gap analysis findings of Long Term Care facilities in NYC.
- Discuss the processes involved in implementing a sustainable antibiotic stewardship program in Long Term Care.
- Construct an Infection Prevention Program specific to the needs of the Long Term Care patient population.
- Describe the fundamental strategies to prepare for certification in infection prevention.

This continuing nursing education activity was approved by the Northeast Multistate Division, an accredited approver by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.
